

FORTUNATO

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW

DAVID M. FORTUNATO
MEMBER

I've specialized in all areas of intellectual property law for over 20 years, as in-house legal counsel at Becton Dickinson and Company, and in private practice at law firms in New York and New Jersey. In addition, I spent 10 years as an engineer and product manager at AT&T – Bell Laboratories, designing and managing data communication devices and systems. This combination of legal, engineering and business experience enables me to provide real-world, practical, strategic and tactical guidance and advice for my clients.

Practice Expertise

- Patent preparation and prosecution
- Infringement, freedom to operate, patentability, and validity opinions
- Patent portfolio development and management
- Trade secrets
- Trademarks
- IP agreements, partnerships, and due diligence
- Litigation and dispute resolution
- IP asset management

Bar Admissions

- States of New Jersey and New York
- Federal Courts of New York
- Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
- United States Patent and Trademark Office

Education

- J.D., Seton Hall University School of Law
- B.S., Electrical Engineering Technology, New Jersey Institute of Technology